MAN-OH-MAN!

THE horse and mule live 30 years,
They never taste light wines and beers;
Sheep and goats are dead at 20,
They drink no booze--water plenty.

At 15, dogs are mostly dead,
They look not on the wine when red.
At 12, raccoons are mostly out
They never tasted good old Stout.

At 10, the cat's lost all nine lives,
No beast on milk and water thrives.
At 5, most birds have passed away,
Far, far from alcohol they stay.

Bugs spend a few days on this earth
They never know the cocktails worth.
But evil, wicked, rum-soaked men
Live on to three score years and ten.
