First Admiral Color TV

Admiral Corporation introduced yesterday its first color television receiver. It has a fifteen-inch tube and will retail for $1,175. Also added to the company's line were several new black-and-white receivers, including a twenty-one-inch model to list for $179.95. Joe Marty Jr., general manager of Admiral's electronics division, said the company expects to turn out 30,000 color television sets next year.
